

WORLD POETRY READING IN TRANSLATION: DIVERSITY OF VOICES, REGIONS, AND CULTURES

We invite you to participate!

The International and Area Studies Library, the Literatures and Languages Library, and the Program in Translation & Interpreting Studies are organizing a Poetry in Translation event on April 29, 2022, from 4:30 pm to 6 pm. The event will take place via Zoom.

Poems in any language and any subject are welcome, along with their translation to or from English. We welcome original translations as well as readings of published translations.

Each participant in the event will have 5 minutes to read their poem and comment briefly on its significance.

Interested persons should send an email to one of the addresses below by April 1, 2022. Please Provide your name, email address, and the title and language of your poem(s).

Atoma Batoma batoma@illinois.edu (African Studies Librarian, Associate Professor)

Marek Sroka msroka@illinois.edu (Literatures and Languages Librarian, Professor)

Joyce Tolliver joycet@illinois.edu (Director, Program in Translation and Interpreting Studies, Associate Professor of Spanish)
